

Elk Festival

What: A 1.5 mile hike around La Jara, with stations focusing on hands-on activities about elk.

Where: Valles Caldera National Preserve - Valle Grande Staging Area, 2 miles from main gate at mile marker 39

Why: To learn about elk, behavior, biology, habitat and management. The festival occurs during the rut season when elk are very active and bugling at this time.

For: 2nd – 5th grade students

When: September 22nd & September 23rd

Time: 10:00 AM - 2:00 PM

Cost: Free

RSVP: There are a limited number of spaces available. Please contact interpretative assistant Stacy Urich at surich@vallescaldera.gov by September 15th to reserve a spot for your class.

Sign up on our mailing list to receive email alerts about education opportunities.